

Pyramid Programming Ltd Privacy Statement

This privacy statement discloses the privacy practices for Pyramid Programming Ltd.

Information Collection and Use

We will not sell, share, or rent information to others in ways different from what is disclosed in this policy. Pyramid Programming Ltd collects information from users at several different points on our systems. The security of pupil data is paramount and encryption and secure data transfer is used to ensure pupil data is kept safely. Pupil data and data collected via our websites (schoolseatingplanner.com and pyramidprogramming.co.uk) will never be disclosed, published or shared with third parties.

Registering details on our websites.

In order to contact us, to access demonstration accounts for our products or to submit an order, users may complete the relevant form on one of our websites. During this process, users are required to give their contact information (e.g. name, e-mail address, and telephone). This information is used to contact users about the products on our site for which they have enquired about. Information submitted in this way or by emailing us will never be disclosed, published or shared with third parties.

Cookies

Pyramid Programming Ltd does not use cookies on any its websites to store users data. (schoolseatingplanner.com and pyramidprogramming.co.uk).

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on the home page of our websites so that our users are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under what circumstances, if any, we disclose it.